

INSTRUCTIONS OF PREPARING PAPERS TO PRINT IN COLLOQUIUM BIOMETRICUM

1. Contributions should be submitted in two copies with, upon final acceptance, the final version on a diskette.
2. Papers should be prepared by using Microsoft Word, Times New Roman (size 12 points) font with the right and left margins of 2.5 cm.
3. Publications should include the title, the name, address and affiliation of the author(s). The e-mail address should also be supplied.
4. The title of each section should be typed in bold type (size 12 points) and placed in the centre of the page (e.g. 1. Analysis of experiments ..).
5. The main text should be preceded by a "Summary", followed by a list of "Key words and phrases" and "Classification AMS 2000".
6. Each paragraph should start with an indentation.
7. Tables and drawings should be inserted in the text.
8. References should be cited within the text by the author(s)' surnames and year of publication in brackets. When there are more than three authors the abbreviation "et al." should be used. Footnotes should be avoided. The alphabetical list of references at the end of the manuscript should be arranged according to the following examples:

Patel J.K., Read C.B. (1996). Handbook of the normal distributions. Marcel Dekker Inc.
Box G.E.P. (1953). A note on regions for tests kurtosis. Biomerika 40, 465-568.
9. Formulae should be numbered on the right-hand of the page by enclosing to brackets, e.g. (3.2) for the second formula in Section 3.
10. At the end of each paper the title and summary in English, not exceeding one page, should be included ("Summary"), followed by "Key words and phrases" and "Classification AMS 2000". The English version of the paper should be accompanied by the title and summary in Polish, followed by "Słowa kluczowe" and "Klasyfikacja AMS 2000".
11. Non standard symbols, abbreviations and terminology should be avoided.
12. Each page should be numbered
13. Papers should not exceed 12 pages.
14. Contributions with a diskette should be submitted to: Colloquium Biometricum, Dept. of Applied Mathematics and Computer Science, University of Life Sciences, PO Box 158, 20-950 Lublin, Poland.
15. Authors should expect to give detailed answers to reviewer's comments.